

Eli's Hospice Insider

Hospice News: Hospice CNA Praised In Fire Rescue

It's not all bad press for hospices. In Wedgefield, S.C., hospice worker Rosalind Wilson, a certified nursing assistant with Agape Hospice, garnered praise for saving her patient from a house fire. "All I could think about was getting him out," Wilson told The Item newspaper. "It was training," she said. "That is the purpose of me being here."