Enforcement News: OIG Offers New COVID-19 Tools and Guidance

Plus: Check out new FAQs, analysis, and enforcement activity.

In a recent online overhaul, the feds updated their COVID-19 fraud insight with some new gadgets and tips for providers.

Details: The HHS Office of Inspector General continues to get serious about COVID-19 fraud. The watchdog agency has added more resources to its COVID-19 Portal, "including a searchable list of our COVID-19 reports," it says in a release.

Other highlights on OIG's COVID dashboard include quick links to auxiliary agencies, a strategic plan, enforcement actions, policy and guidance, and outreach.
